ANNOUNCEMENT

SAVE ENERGY NOW: The U.S. Department of Energy Industrial Technologies Program is now accepting online applications for energy assessments.

The Save Energy Now awards and other collaborative efforts seek to accelerate partnerships with states and local energy efficiency groups, utilities, academic institutions and nonprofit organizations in meeting industrial energy efficiency challenges.

Eligibility: Manufacturing facilities in the U. S. and territories

Cost Sharing: New awards at no cost to the plant

Closing Date: Selections to be announced periodically until the target of 250 assessments reached for the calendar year 2008; assessments to be completed by December 31, 2008

NOTE: Applications will be selected based on overall energy consumption.
Applicants must agree to actively participate in the assessment and trainings.
